

The Foreign Commissions — ENGLAND.

A DAY OF DESTINY!

Such was, I feel sure, in multitudes of cases, the second day at Exeter Hall. "It said the General, in one of the most impassioned appeals we ever heard from him, "If you were destined to live just as many of you are living — to go up in the morning, to eat and drink, to attend to your business or your pleasures, and then to go to bed and rise again to go through the same round day after day, by all means stick to it. But if you believe that you were born to a higher destiny than this, born to live and walk with God and serve Him, then let it be told to-day that you will give yourselves up to this great life." Such was the tenor of the whole day's teaching and influence, and we cannot doubt that the glorious result was reached in the case of very many of the thousands present.

There can be no need of me to dwell upon the crowding of peoples to the hall, which had already been described in connection with the first meeting. Suffice it to say that the interest of the meeting steadily increased, so that the greatest erwaving was, as usual, at the last evening of the series, and that the last meeting in the Strand Street was of the best, and that it was even surpassing through the great city.

What struck me most of all about the day was the remarkable extent to which all the theory of living for God was exemplified as well as described those who took part.

NEW MEMPHIS EXAMINATIONS.

After denouncing the monstrosity of allowing men to stand up and propound theories of religion merely because they had studied the question, or read up the subject, the General proposed a new method of examination, whereby the minister or his fellow examiners would be the minister or to fill up our application, and annually afterwards —

"I hereby certify that Mrs. —, whom I render, lives at home, what is passes."

The certificate to be signed by his wife, and a similar one by the housemaid and cook.

All through the day the idea of this certiorari seemed to be thoroughly impressed upon the minds of the speakers of a religion which the speakers were not prepared fully to lay up in their lives.

When Staff-Capt. Eva Booth stood up, "Let me have it, I will give it."

Though the path be strewed with thorns, everybody must have thought of Torquay, and have understood what she meant by treading the thorny path.

The General might well claim right to speak with authority to the way to extend his Kingdom. She had spoken of his forty-five years' experience; but every heart must have been touched when Mrs. Booth explained how deeply she had felt moved by the teaching of the great General, and how she had been converted, and had been brought face to face with the question of willingness to surrender her dearest ones to the right. How, in the face of such an appeal as she was able to make, could she baulk her back ever a mystery?

In the Afternoon

The General gave on a very lively reading on the resurrection of Lazarus, and was to have an audience that night.

that wonderful story in the shade. Here was an Australian aborigine sergeant-major, who had not only been picked up from a condition of the lowest degradation, but was now full of love and enthusiasm for the salvation of others. To accept salvation at once, and thus made him prepared to go and hunt after his people in the uttermost wide of their native land. He was followed by a native brother, an Englishman, the Chinese brother, Commissioner Tucker gave his point to the descriptions of true and false life. Glory be to the Father, glory to the Son, and glory to the Holy Ghost; and the words we make to-day, may be the words that will raise us to heaven.

Another brother, a man of infinite merit, as he pressed home the fact that the sparrows loved to feed upon worms in such a way as ought surely to have made many in the hall feel how degrading was the nature of the life they were all present to-day.

After he had urged them to get out of Staff-Capt. Orton gave us a glorious description of the way in which many such had been transformed. Next followed

Commissioner Gobba, who of young Swiss girl officers who were going to prison rather than shorten the meetings or shut out those who needed to be got into them, and then Colonel Cadman, who of extraordinary funeral he had conducted the previous day in Leeds as a manifesto of the way in which even a foolish woman might in her death more powerfully move a great multitude than she had been able to do.

The "Wise Up."

The first stage of the meeting was by Commissioner Gobba, fresh from the hall, which he had already described in connection with the first meeting. Suffice it to say that the interest of the meeting steadily increased, so that the greatest erwaving was, as usual, at the last evening of the series, and that the last meeting in the Strand Street was of the best, and that it was even surpassing through the great city.

VERNOUX.

"Sown with the seed of the master," might be said of this place, the Smithfield of the Ardèche department, where the "pastures" of two hundred years ago were burnt at the stake. The crime of profiting from, discovered, was punished with burning alive on the scaffold.

The old man, Mrs. —, whom I followed, must have associated those who had heard the same speaker in days of comparative dimity. She spoke at her usual, though on this subject, which sprang from her heart and absolute surrender to the very word.

And then the Chief-Staff, laying hold, as it were, of all the threads of day, to draw to a great conclusion each line of thought, and then, with a great effort, to hold it up to the eye of the world.

St. John District.

We thank God
CPT. M. M. SMITH
FREDERICKTON, for another good victory, good measuring all the week.
grand times all day on Sunday, the power of God tested upon us and the people; deep conviction but no one yielded. We are believing to see them saved soon.

Although our hearts (St. George Ootipso) by seeing people so certain about their souls when they know Jesus can save them, we are saving them in our ranks. Saturday night Adjt.
"Happy Bill" Cooper and Capt. A. M.
Molter were with us to "awaken" us, and as eleven stood up, so were the soldiers, and as eleven stood up, so were the business men. God spoke through the dear Adjutants in a mighty way and though many said we feel that the seed will spring up the everlasting life. We need to have the right seed in the place; more Holy Ghost and Holy living will bring us life to the business's feet.

NORTH HUDDLESTON, Here we are after CPT. TEMPLE, putting in five good days. We will get orders for Grand Maman, and we find many good soldiers and friends ready to do something for God. The first week we did not do well, but the first, straight, then they began to come in, kind, Catholic, morale and backsliders, are here, and seven souls, seven souls, two backsliders, and two for a clean heart. Glory to God.

ST. ANDREWS, The past three CPT. CHURCH, weeks has been well spent in this blessed spot in this blessed war doing all we can for the gain of men and women. We have "Christ shall reign," is our motto. Since Capt. Body over Sunday, had a blessed time indeed, but Tuesday was the crowning moment of the week. We have been told that we are to be the leaders of the army. We were not told by the victories, and although many seemed to hinder the running of a path, the hearts have been cleaned from inured sin, as their life and brightened testimonies and inspiring faces show to all. We are in God's favor, and the world last. Our meetings have been private and public, Bimpot and public.
Adjt. and Mrs. Cooper and officers from Lt. Col. St. George, and St. Stephen to the front with their soldiers made the town ring with salvation and song on Wednesday, the 16th. Saturday night during open-air Cpt. God got stuck in the mud a stone blessed meetings inside.
Tuesday night all day, especially at night, as Captain told us, Oh, how God took hold of the people, many saw their sinful state none yielded, but certainly will show. Eight on soldiers, certainly is coming.

WEEDSTOCK, We are saved CPT. F. A. SMITH, and still telling the story. We cannot be saved very much this week so far as seeing some aspects is concerned, but our hearts are that we are in the right and we feel confident that the outcome of our efforts will be the salvation of sinners. God has been in our meetings all week, the ungodly have felt the Spirit's power and one backslider yielded to salvation. Blessed be God.
We often sing, "He that can all the victory till this smoke has passed away," so we're fighting on and in the season will have our reward.

ST. JOHN L., We think it a plea-CPT. T. E. COOPER, sure to have the opportunity of telling the people all the week that we are getting along well in this concern, some of the mercy seat nearly every night, and we cannot doubt but what we are sowing and believing to see.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Thank God CPT. A. W. WEAVER
we are in for God and souls.

The past week has been a good one to us and many have been made to see their error and with our meetings, both in the city and out, God's spirit has been so much that people were taking
"Why don't the sinners come to Jesus?"
The love of Christ constrained us to the power of the cleansing Blood washing away the sin. Saturday night, after one of the meetings, was given out in the city.
We have made an effort to get the shop-rooms and got very good with the exception of one. We entered one of those that had failed, we can nearly find a good deal of people, and as we were saving and going in for God like they had done for the Lord, we are going to see them saved and going in for God like
to try and get them converted.

ST. JOHN II., through a week of (Industrious), victory, the meetings CPT. CLARKE, have been a success.
The meetings to come on Saturday (Sunday), so we had a march of 8.00 real well attended, too; the meetings were spiritual, but at night the Spirit brought such that five souls volunteered for God. Jehovah has congealed, glory to him that he realized Jesus saved and not lost. All the people and as we lifted up Jesus, we drew the crowd and about 300 had resulted we believe the work was done.

GEORGETOWN, Glory to God for CPT. COOPER, another week's LUTHER. Victory, fighting and victory over sin and the devil. Although we have done well, but the first, straight, then they began to come in, kind, Catholic, morale
and backsliders, are here, and seven souls,
seven souls, two backsliders, and two for a

DORCHESTER, We are steadily marching on CPT. S. M. RAKER, with the banner of Christ shall reign, is our motto. Since DOUGLASTOWN, We have been storming over CPT. R. M. COOPER, at the front of darkness, but the forces of light, now. After three weeks and as a result of our efforts we have two souls for pardon and two prophecy return to their Father's house, where there is plenty to spare. We are determined to fight for God and we know while we trust in Him we shall never know defeat.

NEWCASTLE, Glory to God, we are surely and the CPT. FRADMAN, morning and can report victory in our own souls. We haven't seen anyone come to the front, but there are some in the camp, and we have been very long they will have to come to the Great Judgment, which alone can banish them from sin's disease.
"Lord, hasten the day," is our prayer.

HALIFAX, There is great rejoicing in the Camp CPT. W. A. SCHMIDT, of the Lord's Own Army, we are saving many souls, and can report victory in our own souls. We have been seeing many souls crying for deliverance from the power of darkness. Jesus has come to the front with His army and giving to their arms of rebellion.
The results are fifteen captured and a large number for holiness. Our prayer is that Jesus may let it go to the devil and flee to Christ for refuge.

SAKKEVILLE, We have glori-CPT. MATTHEW, ous tidings to tell.
CPT. BLACKBURN, Neither dead nor sleeping, but the Sakkeville bears are steadily marching on.
We have had a visit from the Welsh Minster, real good time, always open-air.
Meetings grand all week. Sunday, there was for a free breakfast with the King and the Queen were well fed, and all day we had a free offering on the money. Our comrade are getting into the fighting spirit. We

"Why don't the sinners come to Jesus?"
The love of Christ constrained us
the sin. Saturday night, after one of the meetings, was given out in the city.
We have made an effort to get

the exception of one. We entered one of
find a good deal of people, and as we

to see them saved and going in for God like
to try and get them converted.
